Nov. 3, 2014

ST. LOUIS, Mo. —Frontier Wealth Management, an independent SEC Registered Investment Advisor based in Kansas City, Mo., announced today that it has expanded its markets across the state by acquiring St. Louis-based AHM Asset Management, LLC.

With approximately $225 million in assets under management, AHM Asset Management is an independent firm focused on trust services and wealth management. With like-minded planning and investment ideology, AHM is in line with Frontier's client-service mission and core values, including transparency, advocacy, engagement and resourcefulness.

"St. Louis is a market we have been exploring for the past two years," said Frontier CEO Nick Blasi. "I was fortunate to meet Dennis (Kemper) last fall. We instantly connected on how we should serve clients and the importance our role plays in their financial future. I am excited for our team of specialists to begin working with AHM's clients. We have a great opportunity to do more with a team that is very experienced and willing."

Effective Nov. 1, AHM is operating under Frontier Wealth Management's name and will continue its operations out of its St. Louis office.

"It was clear very early on that Frontier's approach to wealth management and the depth of talent within the organization is a very good fit for AHM Asset," said Dennis Kemper, Senior Wealth Manager with AHM. "Our common values and shared sense of mission will strengthen our presence and enhance our ability to serve to the St. Louis community. We look forward to being the St. Louis office for Frontier."
